

Question Man .....

Are You A Free Spirit?

..... By O'Hara

(Asked at the Art Festival)

Sasha Makovkin, potter, 1810 Great Highway:

Yes. You're a free spirit if you're not grabbed by the straight world. Not overwhelmed by restrictions of The Establishment. You don't play the game of involvements.

Jim Montalvo, student, 480 Santa Barbara street:

Yes, you could call me that. Well, for one reason, I think the way I want to. I don't follow something just because it's popular. I live my life as I see it. I'm not a conformist, I'm free.

Al Johnson, potter, 2780 Jackson street:

Yes. Everyone has a free spirit but they get so involved with spending their energies doing things, which include working, they never have time to develop their own potentials. Free spirits are so secure in themselves they can love without any hangups.

Byron Hunt, artist, 1117 Geary boulevard:

Yes. I live by rules I've made myself. They used to call that being a bohemian in my day. Hoboism, really. Most of the rules people live by are decadent. The artist is prophetic, a clairvoyant. He sees the direction of man.

John Woodjack, 930 Hayes street:

Yes. There are many free spirits about today. We're having a gathering October 7. Witches, zodiacal and cosmic freaks, tree bearers, jesters and jousts will gather in costume for a Renaissance Pleasure Fair in San Rafael.

Patrick Farrow, construction worker, 930 Hayes street:

Well, I'm having fun. I'm enjoying my life. A free spirit, to me, would be someone that lives their life happily, as they really want to live it, not by a set of rules that The Establishment has laid down for them.

Gilbert Reeves, U.S. Navy, ERA School, Treasure Island:

Sure I am. These hippies that figure they're so free, none of them look happy to me. They have to get high on dope to be happy. It's artificial happiness. They're not free.
