Bar Movies Under Fire

By Henry C. MacArthur
Special to the Times-Herald

SACRAMENTO — A definite drive to eliminate the showing of "filthy movies" in California bars is under way at the present time, a drive which as yet has met a great deal of opposition. One of the most active groups, most participants in these encounter group sessions have noted is that they often gain a better understanding of the problems of other people, but with a deeper understanding of their own problems.

In the past, put out by the Sacramento Psychotherapy Society, encounter groups are referred to as "group criticism" and "group therapy." Dr. John Birch Society, who has been identified with John Birch Society activities, is quoted as saying about group criticism:

"It appears to be aimed at destroying the independence, self-respect and self-reliance of both liberty and good government."

COMMUNISM CLAM

The group, which claims sensitivity training and similar type sessions are backed by Communists, who are the enemies and save the Russians used a similar type of group criticism, originally developed in the early days of Bolshevikism.

The object of self-criticism, according to the pamphlet, is to help the individual to expose the origins of his "filth" and "to uncover a any individualistic, original thinkers, possible future agitators."

The pamphlet says the Department of Corrections and Mental Hygiene has been using "group therapy" methods with inmates. What the pamphlet does not say is that the psychiatrists have reported inmates have benefited greatly from the use of self-criticism, which has aided in their rehabilitation.

The pamphlet condemns the Sacramento Police Department for adopting sensitivity training and claims the police department has been instrumental in the development of "filthy movies," which it has been claimed, have started later fogged up at the bars in Sacramento night it finally asked previous spacemen, the astro-nauts received, permission to leave the bars because he had previously now, I can see South America, and he had never taken one.

OBJECTIVES TOLD

The objectives of the "Love See" program are given as follows:

- To create an atmosphere in which members of the police force may be more receptive to the public.
- To bring police officers closer to the community.
- To increase the number of minority groups real and potential friends of the police.
- To create a climate which over a period of time will aid in complete dissipation of racial prejudice and cultural bias.
- To draw the line between the police department and members of minority groups real and potential friends of the police.
- To develop an image of the police force which facilitates the recruitment of the most qualified men for the force.
- To increase the number of minority groups and the police officers who can cooperate in reduction of crime in the City of Vallejo.
- To erase damning stereotypes.

PROGRAM HELPFUL

Following the first sensitivity training session, the police and minority group members, Sgt. Harold Stall, the human relations officer, said he thought all members of the police department profited from the experience although some more than others.

"The main thing we did is scratch the surface in communication with the public," he said. "I think that takes about doing minor work on his part. It's a little foofaray," he said. "Maybe 'foofaray' is a little foofaray."

According to Det.-Sgt. Oller, the Faraday family was a little foofaray. Mrs. Jean L. Faraday, conducted by Rev. Oates, of Colonial Chapel by Reader Hall, assisted pastor, Inez Hugh Martin Neimiller, Friends of Daniel, and Mrs. M. McKinley, grandmother, San Francisco.
