Error Gives Mets Edge

NEW YORK (UPI)—A throwing error by relief pitcher Pete Richert enabled the New York Mets to score a tie-breaking run in the last half of the 10th inning today to defeat the Baltimore Orioles, 2 to 1, in the San World Series.

The victory gave the Mets a lead of three games to one in the Series and put them within one victory of clinching the world championship. The fifth game is scheduled here Thurs-

The Mets came back to win after the Orioles had temporarily staved off defeat by scoring a run in the top half of the ninth inning to send the game into extra innings.
